Short description
The Extremadura Agency for International Development Cooperation (AEXCID) belong to the Presidency of Junta de Extremadura. AEXCID is the management body for Extremadura cooperation, which combats poverty and works for sustainable human development. The Extremadura Agency for International cooperation and Development is in charge of the design of Extremadura development policy and delivering aid throughout the world. Moreover, playing the role of an international development Cooperation Agency, the Agency provides technical assistance and financial support for the design and implementation of Education for Development Projects. Among our modalities of Cooperation, Education for development is one of the main tools in order to promote development. In this context, the AEXCID works in close relation with the Regional Ministry of Education of the Government of Extremadura, the University of Extremadura and more than 90 NGDO's which work in the education for development area, such us:

,... among others.

As an Extremadura Agency for International Cooperation, we offer a worldwide network in the field of Development Cooperation, working in more than 30 countries our main contributions are in Latin America, South Africa... An active and proactive player in the development field, we are a Transversal Entity working in many areas such as, health, energy, education for development, human rights, food and agriculture, ICT,...in the fight for combating poverty worldwide and to inspire more Extremaduran's to get engaged and involved with International Development Cooperation.

A sample of the importance of the Education for Development in the Extremadura region was the development of the Strategy for Education for Development in 2009, which aims to expand and to continue its work of creating instruments for Development Cooperation. In addition, the Agency promotes and encourages the work of awareness raising through a wide variety of activities and initiatives, based on lessons learned from the experiences carried out in Extremadura.

In addition, as part of this strategy of Education for Development in our region, it should be mentioned the AEXCID involvement through the exchange of good practices in the Wall local and regional initiatives of the Committee of the Regions in Brussels (2015). Moreover, the AEXCID commitment on this matter was showed at the Fourth Assisse on Decentralised Cooperation in Brussels in 2015.
